Craig Wildeman

Craig Wildeman is a Senior Systems Project Leader for the Cast Iron Division of Kohler Company. This division manufactures cast iron plumbing products, such as lavatories, sinks, tubs, and whirlpools. As the IT leader for the division, Wildeman is responsible for designing, implementing, and maintaining its information systems. In addition, Craig supports SAS software, SAS server, and SAS users. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater with a bachelor's degree in Computer Systems Management. He has been using SAS software for 25 years with an emphasis in SAS Base, SAS/QC, SAS/AF, SAS/FSP, SAS/SHARE, and SAS/IntrNet.

Craig has been involved with Wisconsin Illinois SAS Users for most of his career. He has been involved with Midwest SAS Users Group (MWSUG) for four years and was conference co-chair in 2010 and the upcoming 2014 conference. Currently, he serves on the MWSUG Board of Directors. Wildeman has been a session coordinator for SAS Global Forum (SGF) and the former SAS Users Group International (SUGI) for the past 16 years.
