Chris Hemedinger

Chris Hemedinger has been with SAS since 1993. In that time, he has been a writer, a software developer, and an R&D manager. He was on the founding team for SAS Enterprise Guide, leading the development team for 10 years. Today, Chris is a Principal Technical Architect in SAS Professional Services (also known as "consulting"). He is author of forthcoming book on custom tasks for SAS Enterprise Guide and coauthor of SAS For Dummies, and also writes The SAS Dummy blog at http://blogs.sas.com/sasdummy.
