

Erich Gundlach

Erich Gundlach is the Systems Engineer for the US Midwest region for JMP, a business unit of SAS that specializes in data visualization software. Before joining JMP, Erich worked for 13 years as an analytical chemist in the pharmaceutical industry, including seven years at Eli Lilly and Co. He has held positions in both quality control and R&D, and he used JMP routinely for statistical quality control, design of experiments, and fitting linear and non-linear models.

He earned a bachelor's degree in biology from Bowling Green State University and a master's in chemistry from Ohio State. He completed graduate work in statistics at Purdue.